Subject: Letter of Recommendation for Lara Custom Builders

This letter is written to express our appreciation for the outstanding service provided by Eric Lara in the design and building of a workshop for Terry to use as a pottery studio on our property.

After careful consideration of several contractors, we settled on Eric to do the work. We liked what we saw in the photos of his previous projects and we were pleased with the interactions we had with Eric during that proposal phase. We were specifically impressed by his hands on approach to doing the work and his attention to details. In addition, Eric was able help us with the design of a workshop that met our needs as well as our budget. Eric would listen to our questions and provided prompt and accurate feedback to our questions.

The structure was started on time once the initial permitting process was completed. Eric kept to the schedule and the budget agreed upon. There were some changes made to the initial design that were incorporated as agreed to between us and Eric. Eric and his crew were professional in all their activities. Eric kept in daily contact with us, informing us of progress to date and the tasks that needed to be completed.

It was obvious during the entire construction period that Eric took personal interest in the quality of the work being performed. We are very pleased with the results. Just a short time ago there was empty land. Now there is a workshop that matches our home in design and color as if it had always been part of the original construction. Terry is now in her pottery studio and could not be more pleased.

Anyone considering a construction project would be well advised to give Eric a good look for top quality and professional work. We are pleased to give him our unqualified recommendation.
