Hi Eric - feel free to put this on your website:

For anyone from Canada looking for a reliable, honest building contractor I can certainly recommend Eric Lara. Eric's number one priority is a satisfied customer. In the space of a few months we had traveled to Arizona, purchased property, designed a home with Eric's house designer, received all the permits and started the home. We have just moved in and are very happy with the results. Eric and I are going to work on a few tips for Canadian clients that will ensure you are happy as well. If you have any question you can contact me through Eric.
